What an Educator Should Know About Islam

When: Tuesday, October 15, 2013, 12:30 p.m.-1:45 p.m.
Where: Top of the Commons, Hillwood Commons, LIU Post
Speaker: Zeshan Hamid

This is an interactive and enlightening program that helps educators learn and understand the basics of Islam so they can approach Muslim students appropriately. The program goes over a basic history about Islam, common myths associated with Islam, and a question/answer session.

About the Speaker...

Zeshan Hamid, the former student body President at Baruch College, is the Muslim Student Advisor at LIU Post, and serves as the National Vice President for Majlis Khuddam Ul Ahmadiyya USA- the leading Muslim youth organization in America. Zeshan is involved in various community projects including Walk for Humanity, Muslims for Life blood drives, and Real Revolution Radio. Zeshan has lectured at Post campus on the topic of Islamic faith, culture and traditions. In 2010, and 2011, he presented the topic What an Educator should Know about Islam for students and teachers from the Post campus and community. The event was organized for the Phi Delta Kappa, Chapter 1524.

Please Note:
This event is free and open to the public. The event is sponsored by the LIU Post Library and partners and supported by a grant from the New York Council for the Humanities.
